

A Blast from the Past

Have you ever visited a Museum of Civilization? If you did, what did you like the best about your visit? What did you learn? Which civilization impressed you the most? Why?

Read the story “A Blast from the Past” aloud to your parent. You can each assume a role (Tamara and Rick) while reading.

Answer these questions orally.

1. The story is about who? What? Where? When? How? Why? Find words in the text to justify your answers.
2. Did you like this story? Explain why or why not.
3. What was your favorite part? Explain.
4. Retell the story in your own words. Use the words: first, next, then, finally, ...
5. On the second page, Tamara is talking about a tournament. What kind of tournament do you think it was?
6. What do you think about their clothes? How are they different from yours?
7. Why does the author use “ ”?
8. Draw an “arrow loop”.
